Broadway Bid Gets Approval

Hiway Commission Okays Projects Throughout State

A $784,538 contract for widening Broadway in Sedalia was awarded Tuesday to the Union Construction Co., Kansas City. The project also calls for asphaltic concrete pavement and concrete parking lanes along two miles of the highway, from Limit to New York Ave. A subcontract for the earth moving is held by the Davis Construction Co., of Boonville.

The Union Co. bid was one of several approved Tuesday by the State Highway Commission, including four projects in the new interstate system, two urban projects and seven projects on the major system, plus supplementary work in 19 counties.

AF Searches For Fragments Of Atom Bomb

Six Persons Injured In Accidental Drop; No Nuclear Blast

FLORENCE, S. C. (AP) — Air Force investigators probed into a deep crater today for fragments of an atomic bomb dropped accidentally here yesterday. There was no nuclear explosion.

Fears of possible radioactive contamination of the area were quickly dispelled by a check by experts.

The TNT triggering device of the bomb which fell from a B-47 burst into the earth and opened a gulch 50 feet wide and 20 feet deep.

Air Force spokesmen said that the trigger had not been connected directly to the atomic explosive charge. A nuclear explosion could have laid waste this city of 30,000.

The bomb struck in a sparsely settled area five miles east of here.

The trigger's explosion, 100 yards behind the home of a railroad worker, wrecked the residence and injured six persons, none seriously. Six other houses and a church were damaged.

The Air Force recovered hundreds of bomb fragments in an all-night search of the mile-square blast area. A spokesman said souvenir hunters carried off several larger pieces of the bomb, and an appeal was made for their return.

A board of inquiry questioned crew members of the B-47 at Hunter Air Force Base, Savannah, Ga., to find out why the long-range bomber dropped the device. A Strategic Air Command spokesman said only that it resulted from "malfunction of the plane's bomb lock system."

The Savannah Evening Press received a report that an airport manager at Timmonsville, S.C., overheard the plane's pilot say: "Oh, my God, I've just had to drop a bomb." Hunter Commander, Maj. Gen. Charles B. Dougher, said all the information he had on the pilot's conversation with the Florence Civil Aeronautics Administration tower was "third-hand."

Gen. Dougher, at a news conference, apologized to the people of this community for what he termed the unfortunate accident.

Asked if anything was left of the weapon, Gen. Dougher replied it was "a lot of pieces."

In Washington, Rep. Kilday (D-Tex), a member of the House Armed Services Committee, asserted "I certainly didn't realize that the TNT detonator and the atomic charge were both actually in place in bombs being carried in this country."

"There is a lot more I would like to know about this," he said. "It is well-known that TNT is tricky stuff, affected by temperature and climate."

The Air Force, which permitted newsmen and photographers inside the blast area, dispelled any fear of radioactivity. One spokesman declared neither radiation nor contamination was found.

The burst rattled apart the frame dwelling of Walter Gregg.

"I was sitting there sewing and the next thing I knew I was crawling out from under boards and plaster," said Mrs. Gregg, who was cut on the head.

Gregg, at work in his garage behind the house, said "I looked around and my whole living house was gone. It was falling to pieces. The garage started to fall apart. I got out of there."

Gregg, his wife and their three children, and a cousin playing in the yard, were cut and bruised.

Annual School Budget Due Next Month

Items Will Include Paving Three Areas, Replacing Furniture

Superintendent Heber U. Hunt told the board of education at its regular meeting Monday night that he will present the annual budget at the April meeting of the board. He explained certain items he would include in the budget for special consideration. These items will include a plan for the paving of certain areas at the Washington, Smith-Cotton and Broadway Schools to be used for recreation, and a plan to replace the old furniture in 21 rooms throughout the Sedalia system. The other rooms have new furniture already, he pointed out, and the budget can stand the added expense for both items. The board will act on these recommendations at the next meeting.

Hunt also pointed out that the city school system planned to add one more driver instruction class to take care of an anticipated increase in the number of students requesting driver training. All students desiring the training at the present time are being trained to tomorrow.

The measure carries a total of $5,903,164, reduced by $154,250 from Gov. James T. Blair's original recommendation for capital improvements at various state institutions.

Yesterday the House defended the five state colleges from an appropriations committee demand that special fees be charged students from outside the state.

Oldster Kills Wife Because of Jealousy

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP)—An 87-year-old woman was slain yesterday and police said her 75-year-old husband told them he killed her because he was "jealous and she was stepping out on me."

George J. Ostrom was charged with murdering his wife Ella by clubbing and choking her.

"She done it to me three or four times before," police quoted the husband. "Hard to believe that of an old lady 87 years old, huh?"

Police said Ostrom told them he attacked his wife with a heavy piece of timber as she sat at a dressing table "fixing herself up."

"I said that if I am elected, I will retain many of the present policemen on a merit system and not on their political status."

"I did say," Hamlin concluded, "that I had some ideas that would help the present department, and, if I am elected I will put them into operation."

Hamlin said that he telephoned Neighbors Tuesday evening after reading the newspaper account of the rally and expressed his regret at the incorrect quotation.

More Snow Expected In State Thursday With 25-30 Low Seen

KANSAS CITY (AP) — More snow is headed for Missouri.

A heavy snow warning was issued for extreme southwest Missouri, with four to eight inches likely.

Rain or snow is expected to spread over the south and extreme western parts of the state by tonight. There will be snow in the south and east central portions Thursday.

Lows of 25 to 30 are forecast for Thursday morning with the day's highs generally in the 30s. Lowest in the state this morning was 26 at Rolla.

Temperatures through next Monday are expected to average slightly below normal in the northeast to 5 to 7 degrees below in the southwest.

Big Stir In Fair Debate

Minority Leader Fails in Attempt To Divert Funds For Hogs and Sheep

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—The Republican minority leader threw a bombshell in the Missouri House today by proposing that funds for sheep and hog facilities at the Missouri State Fairgrounds be deleted and the money used at state hospitals.

Rep. A. Clifford Jones (R) of St. Louis County said as he offered the amendment: "I'm deeply concerned over the comfort of hogs but not deeply enough to take it away from the hospitals."

He recommended that a $40,000 item for completing the sheep pavilion and $14,000 for an addition to the swine pavilion at the fairgrounds in Sedalia be diverted to needed construction at state hospitals in St. Louis, Fulton and St. Joseph and the Ellis Fischel Cancer Hospital in Columbia.

Democrats immediately accused Jones of "using the people in those institutions as a political football."

Jones denied that. He said he tried to get the changes made in the Appropriations Committee but he was voted down.

He said he thought the hogs and sheep could struggle along in deference to a new sanitary sewer at the Fulton hospital, laundry and food elevators at the St. Joseph hospital, freight and passenger elevators at the St. Louis hospital and air conditioning in examining and treatment rooms in the cancer hospital.

The quotation was part of a story delivered by the Republican party to The Democrat-Capital on Tuesday morning.

"I do not know who wrote the article for the newspaper," Hamlin said, "and I don't care, but I would like to make a few things clear as to what I did say and did not say."

"I said nothing about 'turning anyone out to pasture,'" Hamlin declared. "I did not say that 'I would not fire the present police force,' and I said nothing about 'leadership, training or supervision.'"

The portion of yesterday's story about the rally which dealt with Hamlin's talk read:

"Ralph Hamlin, candidate for chief of police, stated that the city school system planned to add one more driver instruction class to take care of an anticipated increase in the number of students requesting driver training. All students desiring the training at the present time are being trained to tomorrow.

All other efforts to change committee recommendations on the bill also failed and it was advanced to position for passage tomorrow.

The measure carries a total of $5,903,164, reduced by $154,250 from Gov. James T. Blair's original recommendation for capital improvements at various state institutions.

Yesterday the House defended the five state colleges from an appropriations committee demand that special fees be charged students from outside the state.

Airline Service Step Backed by Chamber

In Final Concert

Dutch Pianist Guest Artist Monday Night

John Pennink, Dutch pianist, who was discovered by Eugene Ormandy, conductor of the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra, will be the guest artist at the final concert of the Sedalia Symphony Orchestra next Monday night at the Smith-Cotton auditorium. Abe Rosenthal will conduct the orchestra, which is concluding its 23rd season under the baton of Rosenthal.

Pennink, 27 years old, is one of the world's rising young concert artists. Being born in Batavia, capital of the Netherlands Indies, he eventually began his piano studies with Fania Chapiro in Amsterdam, Holland. Four years later, he received the Dutch State Diploma in Music. And in 1951, a mere five years after he had begun his training, Pennink was a prize-winner in the International Marguerite Long piano competition.

The young artist's concert career began in 1951. He played in the Netherland cities of Rotterdam, Eindhoven, Dordrecht, Amsterdam, and then he went to France for concerts in Paris and other French cities. Following this, he had an enormously successful Brussels concert.

Shortly after his appearance in Brussels, he was stricken with meningitis. For many months, Pennink's life hung in the balance. His recovery was considered miraculous.

Almost as soon as he was out of bed, he was back on the concert stage. He toured other European cities and appeared on radio and television. He then reached his goal—to play with the famous Amsterdam Concertgebouw.

Would Speed Consideration By US Agency

Action Must Secure Approval of Council Before Being Done

An opportunity for Sedalia to secure consideration for airline service much sooner than previously expected was snapped up by the Chamber of Commerce board of directors Tuesday afternoon.

D. Kelly Scruton, director of the aviation and military affairs division, and also chairman of the city's airport committee, said that Little Rock, Ark., is presently scheduled to be considered for similar service by the Civil Aeronautics Board in conjunction with the desire expressed by several airlines to expand their systems.

The way has been opened, Scruton told the directors, for Sedalia to be included as part of Little Rock's application, thus getting in on the present CAB agenda instead of Sedalia having to strike out on its own and wait for the next CAB session and missing out on current expansion plans.

The application by Sedalia must be made by the city through its agencies, not the Chamber, he explained, but he asked the support of the Chamber and its many services, and the board readily granted it. The action must still be approved by the Council.

Scruton also stated that, should the Sedalia application be approved, the CAB would issue the city a certificate stating that it was found eligible for airlines service. Then the many requests by the airlines themselves for the right to expand would be studied by the CAB, which would then apportion the areas to be serviced, Sedalia among them.

It would be up to the city, after it received its certificate, to bring its airport facilities up to governmental standards in order to be ready for the airlines service. The first step toward this has already been taken, Scruton has previously informed the board, through the drawing up of an airport master plan to provide for the immediate construction of a north-south sod runway out of existing city funds, on top of which a hard-surface runway could later be constructed for airlines service.

Scruton said Tuesday that all this may take a long time to accomplish, but the application for consideration by the Civil Aeronautics Board is a move in the right direction.

Schedules Conference With Gov. Blair On Rising Unemployment

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — St. Louis and Kansas City mayors scheduled a conference with Gov. James T. Blair today to discuss what the state can do about rising unemployment in the metropolitan areas.

The answer at this point seems to be: "Not much. That's what the governor told a delegation of church and welfare workers in a similar conference yesterday."

Blair said the state barely has enough money to keep current services going. He said it would be impossible to embark on any big direct relief plan unless the Legislature and the people are willing to accept an immediate, substantial tax increase.

The governor agreed to ask the federal government once more to step up its relief efforts but said he didn't expect much help from that quarter.

Defeats Bond Issue

CAMDENTON, Mo. (AP) — Voters of the Camdenton R-3 School District yesterday defeated a proposed $689,000 bond issue for the fourth time since last June.

Plans were to build more classrooms and an auditorium-gymnasium.

Finds Americans Friendly

Exchange Student Tells ABWA About His Homeland

The American Business Women's Association met at the Bothwellers which the people in Sedalia Hotel Tuesday evening for a dinner meeting, with Esko Ollila, American Field Exchange Student, from Finland as the speaker.

Esko first expressed his appreciation for being in America and in Smith-Cotton, where he said he found everyone very friendly.

There are 1,000 American Field Exchange Students from many nations, he said, and 750 from the United States have been sent to other countries, one of them being Linda Turner, who went to Germany last summer.

Finland, Esko said, is the northernmost country in Europe, with a climate similar to Michigan and Minnesota, but, with long, cold winters which the people in Sedalia would probably find it hard to endure.

Temperatures often drop to 20 or 30 degrees below zero, but, it is a dry cold, differing from the dampness here.

Esko stated his country has about 160,000 square miles in area and is about twice the size of Missouri, with four and one half million population. People are engaged about equally in farming and industries. He told the group that his folks have a farm, and have many cattle and reindeer. They sold most of the reindeer, however, keeping some to use for meat.

The Finnish language is unique in Europe, he said, being different from all other languages. They use long words, he said, but can say the same Americans say using many words, with very few words in Finnish.

Schools differ from American schools with 50 per cent going to vocational schools and only the upper 50 per cent to high school, Esko said, and he has two more years in high school.

American movies and magazines are popular in Finland, although sometimes give many wrong ideas which he hopes to correct when he returns home. High mountains effect the successful use of television in Finland.

People embrace the Lutheran religion, with about 97 per cent being Lutherans. The living standards in the United States are higher than in Finland, but he found the people very much alike. If people could know and understand each other, he believes, many international problems could be solved.

The exchange of students, he feels, helps very much along this line. After finishing school Esko will go into military service and then later study law.

The meeting was presided over by Miss Ella Peithman, president, and invocation was given by Miss Margaret Bohon.

A musical program was presented by Mrs. Edith Donath, violinist, who played three numbers, "Mother Machree," "Deep Purple" and "Stardust." She was accompanied by Mrs. Jane Wilson.

Plans were made for a "Hand of Friendship Tea" on March 16.

Table decorations were white, pink and green carnations in crystal and gold containers. Shamrocks were scattered along the tables.

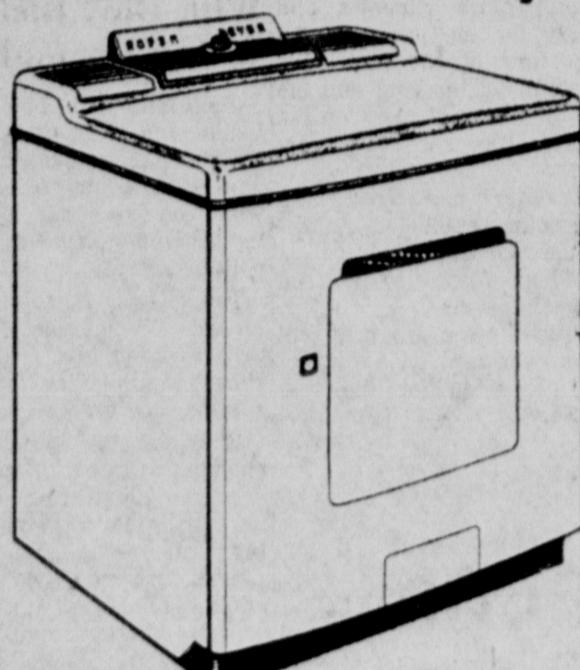

The meeting closed with Mrs. Evelyn Rabourn giving the benediction.

Many Cross Currents

Weak Fourth Quarter Hurts, But Total Picture Is Level

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—A weak fourth quarter pulled many a corporation's annual earnings down but as a whole business profits for 1957 managed to squeak through just about even with 1956.

The flood of earnings statements pouring in today show an unusual number of cross currents: Record earnings for some despite the general recession; for others record sales but ebbing net profits after taxes; steep declines for many firms and for some whole industries.

There have been some surprises in individual reports—quickly reflected in the action of their shares on the stock market.

More than half the 679 firms so far reporting show profit drops from 1956. But so well did some of the giants of industry do, and some industries like drugs, tobacco and the even-riding utilities, that the combined net income of the 679 comes to $10,296,727,000.

That is a bare 0.4 per cent from the $10,249,913,000 the same companies reported for 1956. It reveals the sharp drop from the nine-month mark when business was showing a 7.2 per cent gain over the first three quarters of 1956. For all of 1955 profits increased 31.8 per cent over 1954. So close is the race between 1957 and 1956 profits that the percentage can swing back and forth.

Abbott Sues Costello Over Movie Money

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Instead of Abbott and Costello, it's Abbott versus Costello—in a lawsuit.

William A. (Bud) Abbott sued his former partner in comedy Lou Costello for some $222,000 yesterday in a dispute over a filmed television series they made five years ago.

The suit said Abbott has received $167,324 but his total compensation should be at least $390,000. He asks an accounting.

The comedy team, one of the movies' biggest box-office successes, split up 15 months ago.

across the line almost daily as more companies report.

Biggest decreases by those reporting so far are: The airlines, off 48 per cent, although some of their suppliers did better; meat packers off 55 per cent, although other food companies managed to make gains; mining companies, off 44 per cent, and their kindred metal working firms, off 18 per cent; paper and paper products, off 23 per cent; cement, off 15 per cent; textile and apparel, off 18 per cent; farm equipment, off 11 per cent; and railroads, off 17 per cent.

The steel industry managed to pull ahead slightly, thanks to the two largest companies, whose combined earnings topped those of all the others together.

The auto industry as a whole pulled ahead of a year ago because two of the Big Three had better years than in 1956.

A slide in profits for a giant oil firm set the pattern there, since its profits are greater than all the other 25 companies reporting so far.

The biggest chemical firm shows an increase but not enough to offset the others. The industry as a whole trails 1956 by 0.5 per cent.

The waning boom in capital goods and in industrial expansion is shown in the reports of the machinery makers, off an average 4 per cent, and the machine tools industry, down 7 per cent, and in the building materials group, minus cement companies, down 11 per cent, although the glass firms did better than that.

Shrinking profits continue to show up in another way—in the almost daily flow of announcements that dividends are being cut by some firms.

Blamed for the decreases by those reporting them are sliding demand in many cases, and rising labor costs in most. Increased materials prices last year also enter in, although this trend has halted recently.

Reversal of the downward profit trend: Better demand, more cost cutting, more productivity, less taxation—or a combination of them.

Studio Says Actor Too Drunk to Work

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A $159,769 damage suit has been brought against actor Dana Andrews by a studio that claims he frequently was too intoxicated to work during the filming of a picture.

Advised of the action, the 47-year-old actor said: "I deny all the charges. It's ridiculous and childish. This is a conflict of personalities."

The suit was filed in Superior Court by Waverly Productions, Inc., which claimed it had to interrupt the shooting of the picture at least 20 times at locations in Mexico because Andrews couldn't work. The company said he left Mexico before finishing his work. It asked to be freed from a contract under which it was to pay the actor $100,000 or 10 weeks of work.

Air Line Goofs In Record Claim

DENVER (AP)—Sunday Continental Air Lines claimed a record for commercial aircraft when one of its new jet-prop transports flew from Denver to Washington in 4 hours 45 minutes.

United Air Lines heard about the claim and hastened to point out it has a regular Denver-to-Washington flight that takes 4 hours 25 minutes.

Moreover, a UAL official said, one of its DC7 transports once flew the route in 3 hours 25 minutes.

Said a Continental public relations man: "We goofed."

The King And I Reviewed At Sorosis Meeting Monday

Mrs. William C. Hopkins fascinated members of Sorosis Monday afternoon in her review of the book, "The King and I," presented in a delightful way the various characters of the book.

Mrs. Hopkins wore a light blue taffeta waltz formal and Miss Lilian Fox, who was at the piano, and the children of the wives who favored the King.

Guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rogen, Lucille and Jane, Clifton City, Mrs. Margaret Hallahan, Mrs. Mary Cramer, Smithton, Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Seifert, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Rehmer and daughter.

An object in the grip of the atmosphere follows the earth's rotation at approximately 1,000 miles an hour at the equator.

Genuine sealskin is so supple that an entire pelt can be passed through a napkin ring.

wore a coral taffeta formal. Miss Fox served as an accompanist not only for the songs Mrs. Hopkins sang throughout the review, but at other times, also, to accent the dramatic scenes or the love scenes.

The story is the experiences of an English widow of the early 1800s who took her ten-year-old son, Louis, and went to Siam to teach the children of the King.

She had been told by the King that she would be given a house and 20 English pounds a month. When the prime minister and some of the slaves came out to the ship to talk to her, her son was afraid and he asked what she did when she was afraid. She said she strolled and here Mrs. Hopkins sang a song about whistling when you're afraid and whistled parts of it.

She was taken ashore where she met the King who did not remember that he had promised her a house and insisted she live in the palace. She met his wives, those who favored the King, and the children of the wives who favored the King. She loved the children and although the King tried to convince her he was a superior being, she held her ground and found that he felt her influence because of her knowledge of things. When the children of the school insisted that the world was carried on the back of a turtle and not round like a ball on a stick, the King told them they were to believe what the teacher said. "The world," he said, "is a ball on a stick," and then added, "I believe." He wasn't at all sure what he believed, but nevertheless he followed Mrs. Anna's teachings and she saw the real man beneath the graft and important veneer he wore to impress her and others.

Mrs. Hopkins was particularly good in the portrayal of the King. Other characters that came to life through her outstanding dramatic ability were Mrs. Anna, her son, Louis, the King's favorite wife and his son, who would inherit the throne, the little slave girl and her lover, the snarling prime minister, and Sir Edward from England who had loved Anna before she married her beloved Tom and still did.

There were moments of laughter when the King tried to prove he was above Anna and yet quoted the things she said, and in the preparation of elaborate ceremonies for the English delegation to prove the King was not a barbarian and the jealousy he had for Sir Edward was shown in his effort to mimic the Englishman and to divert Anna's attention from him. There were dramatic moments when Anna held steadfastly to her own demands and again when she molded the King into her own thinking by agreeing with him. There was love and sympathy for the young slave girl and her lover; and there were real grief in the trembling voices on the verge of tears as Anna read the letter from the dying King and the King's young son as he bravely tried to take his responsibility by issuing proclamations which had been influenced by Anna as his father gave his approval as he was dying.

The music and the singing of a number of the songs from the play by Mrs. Hopkins added a great deal to the review.

Mrs. Hopkins was introduced by Mrs. Alice Wolfe, history and literature chairman.

The meeting was conducted by Mrs. Harold Dean, president.

Mrs. Joseph Maunders, art and drama chairman, announced that the speaker next week would be Mrs. Bryan F. Doremeyer, of Jefferson City. She will give a book review.

An All-Round Bad Day

GLOUCESTER, R.I. (AP) — Two men had a bad day all around.

They were picked up after questioning about an hour after Theodore Kubaska was robbed in his liquor store of $100.

He said that during the robbery one of the men remarked: "I lost $6 at the track today." The other replied: "I lost $8."

The pair was not charged immediately.

Luck Children

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP) — The children who tossed a match into a tanker filled with gasoline are lucky to be alive. Fire Chief August Rassche said the only reason there wasn't an explosion was because the tanker was full, leaving no room for fumes to develop. The children scattered when the gasoline caught fire. None were injured.

Woman Irked at Play, Boxes Actor's Ears

NEW YORK (AP) — A young woman got into the third act of the Broadway play "Look Back in Anger" last night by climbing from the audience to the stage and slapping Kenneth Haigh, the male star, across the face.

Haigh was seated and reading a newspaper. At this point in John Osborne's play about domestic conflict, Haigh has settled down to live with a woman not his wife.

On stage with him were Vivian Drummond and Alan Bates.

Miss Drummond called for the curtain and Bates and Haigh carried the interloper off stage.

Haigh said the woman murmured, "He left me, he left me," as she approached him.

Harold Stone, the stage manager at the Lyceum Theater, offered to refund the audience its money. The audience called for the play to continue and it did after a short interval.

No charge was placed against the woman.

Swedish Princess Found Dead at Home

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Princess Ingeborg of Sweden, the daughter, sister, mother-in-law and grandmother of kings, was found dead in bed today. She was 79.

One of the most popular members of Scandinavian royalty, Princess Ingeborg was the daughter of King Frederick VIII of Denmark and her brother became King Christian X on their father's death.

The princess was married to the late Prince Carl, a younger brother of the Swedish King. Their youngest daughter was the late Queen Astrid of Belgium, mother of King Baudouin. Their second daughter was the late Crown Princess Martha of Norway, whose widower became King Olav V last year.

Harold Stone, the stage manager at the Lyceum Theater, offered to refund the audience its money. The audience called for the play to continue and it did after a short interval.

No charge was placed against the woman.

Supplemental 'Bank' Bill To Conference

WASHINGTON (AP)—A $2,869,429 supplemental money bill, including funds for stepped-up soil bank payments, headed for a Senate-House conference committee today.

The Senate passed the measure last night and sent it back to the House after rejecting a series of proposed amendments on technical grounds.

These included proposals to freeze dairy price supports, to raise the ceiling on cotton planting acreage and to halt plans for extension of the east front of the U.S. Capitol. None of these mustered the two-thirds vote required for inclusion of such matters in a money bill.

Because of other Senate changes written into the bill, passed earlier by the House, a conference committee almost certainly will be named to iron out the differences.

Funds in the bill are to finance miscellaneous federal activities for the remainder of fiscal 1958, an arduous trip.

At BPW Banquet

College Leader Says Women Move Ahead

Dr. Blanche Dow, president of Cottey College, Nevada, Mo., addressed members of the Business and Professional Women and their guests at the 35th anniversary banquet held Thursday at the Smith-Cotton High School cafeteria, on the subject of "What Women See." She was introduced by Mrs. Frank Wagner, first vice-president and chairman of the membership committee.

In speaking of the Business and Professional Women she noted that with a membership of 200,000 actively engaged in business and professions there is proof women see a lot. She pointed out that as long as women analyze and evaluate what they see, they move in a forward direction. It is a program of continuing education.

What women see, she pointed out, depends upon where they look. Women look backward a great deal, she said, and they look forward. The present has very little meaning unless it is reinforced by the past and the future. The present is the least interesting of all, for what you enjoy is memory and anticipation. The past, she went on to say, is one way of looking, as long as it does not constitute the whole range of life.

History says, Dr. Dow told her audience, that American men built the west. But what, she asked, would they have done if women had not been there? You can imagine the lonesomeness of these women, but in spite of what they lacked they must have had great intelligence, courage, and a fine sense of values in these sacrifices by the thought of what it meant for the future.

American women today have very severe critics, Dr. Dow said, and one of them said that the greatest resource which goes to waste today is American womanhood.

In 1876, Dr. Dow said, the retired president of Harvard was asked to address the first graduating class of Smith College which had 13 girls in the class. He tried to refuse but his good friend, who was president of Smith College, insisted, and the retired president commented he doubted very much the wisdom of women tasting the dangerous delights of learning. We have such easy access to education today, Dr. Dow went on to say, that women in other countries in the world would give anything to have it.

She asked, "What could a woman do 50 years ago? Teach. That was all that was open to her. When women studied medicine, they became national figures. Social security work was done at great risk.

Look out, said Dr. Dow, and see the world constantly widening and broadening and with it a demand on us to do something more than we are doing. What we need today more than science and certain required subjects are men and women, boys and girls who know how to think. The danger is within and the most important defense is inside. We need to concentrate on the why instead of the how. We need to dwell upon relations, upon values, upon ideas, we are fed up in this country on narrations. We talk about independence, about freedom, about stalwart Americans, and yet we follow along on everything with merely the answer: "What can we do?"

Luxuries don't make us very happy. Women see things they could accomplish, goals set for better lives for more people. That is what we pray for, and human

North Korean Soldiers Relieve Red Chinese

HONG KONG (AP) — North Korean soldiers have been taking over from withdrawing Red Chinese "volunteers" in the past few days, Peiping radio said today. The broadcast said the first Communist Chinese elements will complete their pullout before April 30. The size of the group was not indicated.

The Chinese Reds said two weeks ago they would pull back their entire force in North Korea — estimated at 370,000 men — by year's end. They demanded that U.N. troops do the same in South Korea.

The U.N. has brushed aside the Chinese withdrawal promise as a meaningless gesture, since Peiping's troops need only cross the Yalu River to return. The United States has indicated it will not remove its two divisions unless the Communists agree to free, U.N.-supervised elections to unify Korea.

Troops Lock With Rebels In Sumatra

By FRED WATERS
PAKANBARU (AP)—Central Sumatra government paratroopers landed in force today and locked in combat with rebel forces in this Central Sumatra heartland where the U.S. Caltex Oil Co. has major installations.

The Central Government launched its biggest land, air and sea offensive to wipe out the rebel movement which demands that an out-and-out anti-Communist government be set up in Jakarta.

Jakarta troops also landed at Dumai, on Sumatra's east coast, the one remaining Caltex oil port.

An Indonesian navy corvette took up a position off Padang, rebel port on the west coast, and gave all ships in the harbor until 1 a.m. Thursday to leave or face destruction.

The Jakarta forces at Dumai fought some skirmishes with rebel defenders. They apparently sought to drive inland to the Duri oil field, where a Caltex pipeline to Dumai starts.

The paratroopers landed on Pakanbaru's airfield and cleared it of obstructions in preparation for transport landings.

Rebel Interior Minister Djambek said over Padang radio that rebel forces had inflicted heavy casualties on the invaders. He said the fighting was still going on.

Djambeek said government planes bombed and strafed the airfield before the paratroop landings. He called the attack a "brutal deed, the same as those committed by Fascists and Communists."

He appealed to the people to fight the invaders.

"There is no other alternative but the defense of our soil," he said. "Kill them if you meet them."

The rebels had vowed they would fight for the oil fields.

No Caltex evacuation was expected. Some wives and children of U.S. workers left several days ago after Caltex suspended operations. Remaining workers and their families had been ordered to concentrate near here, the headquarters of Caltex operations.

The feeling here was tense but there was no panic because both the rebels and the Central Government gave assurances of the safety of American lives and interests.

Three Are Held In Razor Theft; Two Caught Here

Three Sedalians have been arrested in connection with shoplifting a $30 electric razor from the W. T. Shaw Drug Store in Jefferson City. One was apprehended in Jefferson City and a man and his wife arrested in Sedalia early Wednesday morning.

James Huffman, 33, who gave his address as 320 East Fourth, but local records show other addresses as 610 West Sixth and 419 North Prospect, Sedalia on 410 East Tenth, Kansas City, was apprehended in Jefferson City.

Robert Dooley, 32, and his wife Bonnie Dooley, 33, of 720½ West Third, were taken into custody at their apartment Wednesday. They were questioned at the Sedalia Police Department but denied any connection with the incident in Jefferson City.

Mr. and Mrs. Dooley were taken to Jefferson City by Police Capt. Higgins and another Capital City police officer, on a warrant charging them with a misdemeanor.

According to the police, Huffman had a car belonging to Ray Davis of 914 South Vermont, which he was trying out. After he was picked up, a man and woman took the car and left for Sedalia and were stopped at California. They were released when it was found they did not have the razor in the car.

The car was found late Tuesday night on East Highway 50 just a short distance from the Brown Service Station, out of gasoline. It was brought to Sedalia by Davis, who with Andy Burlingame found it.

Marie McDonald Has Changed Mind Again

CINCINNATI (AP)—Actress Marie McDonald said today she has changed her mind and will file suit for a divorce from her husband, Harry Karl, West Coast businessman.

She wants the divorce, she told a reporter, so she can testify against him in support of her charges that he engineered her abduction more than a year ago.

The blonde beauty has been sued for $1,100,000 by Sid Hudson, an associate of her husband, on a charge of slander.

Fern O. Sanders, 83, a livestock commission man in the Kansas City stockyards since 1893, died Tuesday at the home, 300 East Dartmouth road, Kansas City.

Mr. Sanders was born in LaMonte and went to Kansas City in 1891. Recently he had been in semi-retirement as a member of the firm of Yenzer, Peret and Sanders. He was a member of the Hoof and Horn club and the Good Fellowship club at the stockyards. He was a Mason.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Mabel C. Sanders of the home; a son, Robert G. Sanders, Kansas City; two grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Thursday at the Newcomer Chapel, Kansas City, with burial in Mt. Moriah Cemetery.

Mrs. Ida M. Rea

Mrs. Ida M. Rea, 82, of 3217 North Fifty-first, Wyandotte County, Kan., died Tuesday night at Bethany Hospital. Her husband, Robert N. Rea, a retired farmer, died two years ago.

Mrs. Rea was born in Miller County, Missouri, formerly lived at Eudora, Kan., and had been a resident of Wyandotte County 11 years. She was a member of the Wyandotte Baptist Church.

Surviving are five daughters, Mrs. Pearl Roark of the home; Mrs. Bonnie Moore, 3409 Locust; Mrs. Gertrude Bray, Lawrence, Kan.; Mrs. Olive Maxwell, Houston, Tex., and Mrs. Ruby Cowan, Sedalia; 11 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Services will be at 1:30 o'clock Thursday at the Fulton Chapel. Burial will be in Highland Park Cemetery.

Mrs. Addie Agnes Howerton

Funeral services for Mrs. Addie Howerton, 92, who died at Buena Vista Monday evening, will be held at the Baptist Church in Chilhowee at 2 p.m. Thursday. The Rev. Charles Sexton, Chilhowee, will officiate.

Pallbearers will be Julius蒙古, Guy McReynolds, Arthur Turner, Roy Graham, Luther Preston and Burk Murray. Burial will be in the Corinth Cemetery south of Chilhowee.

Mrs. Howerton is survived by her sons, U. L. Howerton, 1534 South Grand, and Albert E. Howerton, Hollywood, California; one daughter, Mrs. Eula Peyton, 2505 West 11th; three grandchildren, E. E. Howerton and Mrs. Jack Faber, Sedalia, and Mrs. Evelyn Graham, Warrensburg; and four great-grandchildren.

The body is at the Ewing Funeral Home.

Mrs. Cora Etta Watts Rites

Funeral services for Mrs. Cora Etta Watts, 81, of 813 East 19th, who died Monday, were held at 2 p.m. Wednesday at the McLaughlin Funeral Chapel, the Rev. J. W. Watts officiating.

Burial was in Crown Hill Cemetery.

Meeting For Ben Franklin Owners Held

The Butler Brothers dinner meeting for the owners of Ben Franklin stores in this zone and their wives, was held Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock in the Ambassador Room of the Bothwell Hotel.

The zone meeting was conducted by John J. Sagar, superintendent for the Ben Franklin Stores in this area, assisted by his wife.

These zone meetings are sponsored annually by Butler Brothers, who serve the merchandise and promotional needs of more than 2,400 independently owned Ben Franklin stores operating throughout the United States, plus Alaska and Hawaii. According to Sagar, this is one of 185 such meetings being held throughout the United States during the next 30 days for the purpose of bringing together the more than 2,400 store owners.

He went on to say these meetings serve as a clearing house for the exchange of modern retailing ideas and considerable time is spent in discussing better and more efficient ways to serve America's buying public. It is also an opportunity, he pointed out, for the individual store owners to meet with other owners as well as Butler Brothers representatives in strengthening their local store operation.

The thought stressed in all of the meetings has been on how better service and quality merchandise at lower prices can be provided through the combined effort of this huge number of independently owned variety stores.

The tables were artistically decorated, carrying out the Ben Franklin theme throughout. A beautiful arrangement of flowers centered the speaker's table. Red carnation corsages tied with gold ribbon were presented each lady and the men each received a bronze wall thermometer.

Owners and their wives from 14 Ben Franklin Stores located in this vicinity attending the dinner were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Geniges, Sedalia; Mr. and Mrs. G. Saxton, Windsor; Mr. and Mrs. W. Atkins and Mr. and Mrs. D. Eberling, all of Clinton; Mr. and Mrs. E. Senn, Warsaw; Mrs. E. Engle and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Lackey, all of Buffalo; Mr. and Mrs. Larry Lemen and Mr. and Mrs. H. Dickson, California; Mr. and Mrs. W. Walton, Versailles; Mr. and Mrs. E. Ford, and Mr. Emler, Eldon; Mr. and Mrs. O. Gilbert and Mr. and Mrs. Pippin, Richland; Mr. and Mrs. L. Dunivin, St. James, Mr. and Mrs. B. Stolz, Rolla; and B. Thompson, Camden.

Attending also were: H. O'Neil, general operating manager, Chicago; Mr. Petersen, operating manager, Kansas City; R. Shirley, supervisor, Kansas City; B. Hoover, comptroller, Kansas City; Miss Anne Sagar, Miss Mary Elizabeth and Richard Lemon.

Harvard Goes On Air For Education

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP) — Some people probably were a little surprised to learn that Harvard University had purchased an hour of time on the CBS radio network to present a program entitled "The Case for the College" March 28.

We're so advertising-sponsor conscious these days that the first question in many minds is: What's in this for Harvard?

The answer is that for Harvard, first university in history to sponsor an hour of radio time, does not expect to gain anything in particular itself. It appears that with this effort Harvard basically is doing as much for dear old Sis- wash as it is for Harvard. It's true that the moderator of the program will be President Nathan M. Pusey of Harvard and that those participating will be Harvard alumni and undergraduates.

But a principal purpose is to try to help rid some people of the notion that a college—not just Harvard, but any liberal college—is an ivory tower isolated from the rest of the world.

Many people seem to visualize the educational process in this Sputnik age as a kind of assembly line on which bright youths will be turned, tooted and sprayed to emerge as shining weapons against a potential enemy.

It's not that simple. Higher education is not an assembly line. It's a complexity of individual desires and drives and fulfillments with results that cannot be measured either by bucks or ballistic missiles.

In expending the effort and money to bring these facts to the attention of a national audience Harvard is performing a genuine public service that shows the modern American college definitely is not an ivory tower.

Standing with Ingrid in the courtyard of his big estate, the 45-year-old play producer told newsmen he recently bought a house on the island in the Swedish Archipelago.

"I love that little island," interposed Ingrid, 40, whose romance with her now-estranged husband, Italian movie director Roberto Rossellini, developed on the volcanic isle of Stromboli. Rossellini seeks an annulment of their Mexican marriage by proxy.

Plight Of The Railroads

Increasingly in this country we seem to accept policies of drift as a normal response to problems. Nowhere is this more clearly seen than in the evident indifference which greets the dilemma of the nation's hard-pressed railroad system.

The railroads' financial and other difficulties are well known now. They have told their story to Congress, and appealed for action. But wise heads in Washington question whether anything measurable will be done.

A nation so basically prosperous as ours can suffer more than a few economic invalids within its midst and still go bowing along. The coal industry was in straits for years, and its revival of recent times may be wearing out. Agriculture is plagued with chronic afflictions.

The position of the rails, however, is a little more crucial. They're still a very big part of our economic circulatory system. For all their losses to competing air, truck and pipe lines, they carry half the country's freight.

Nothing that has happened has changed the fact that the railroads are the cheapest means of hauling bulk freight—except for waterways which cannot serve all areas.

In wartime this fundamental characteristic makes them of life and death importance.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — It looked as if National Airlines President G. T. Baker and Congressman John Bell Williams, the Mississippi Dixiecrat, had rehearsed their testimony when Baker recently appeared before the Harris Committee. Their subject was the author of this column. Here is what they said:

Rep. Williams: Mr. Baker, at this point I want to ask you a very friendly question. You don't have any objections to that, do you?

Baker: I would not have any objections to any question. I will answer any questions, friendly or unfriendly.

Williams: In answering this, you pull your wheels up, you slap the throttles all the way. Will you please explain what connection you might find between Mr. Katzenstein (an applicant for Channel 10 in Miami) and Mr. Drew Pearson? And I do hope you will use Mr. Truman's technique in discussing Mr. Pearson.

Baker: As I understand it, Mr. Arnold, the son of Mr. Arnold of Mr. Porter's law firm, is the son-in-law of Mr. Drew Pearson; and reading Mr. Drew Pearson, he had a leak somewhere. It didn't come from the committee, I don't think, or maybe the staff.

Williams: You mean to imply that Mr. Pearson was not telling the truth?

Baker: I have heard that said before, and the fact that Mr. Arnold was son of the law partner of Mr. Porter and the son-in-law of Pearson, that would be an obvious connection.

Williams: Do you feel that Mr. Pearson has an interest in this matter?

Baker: I don't know — a financial interest?

Williams: Any kind of an interest.

Baker: I don't know, but the scandal mongering as he has been doing for these many years, that is his interest.

Williams: Go right ahead. You are doing fine. Baker: I will hate to look at his column tomorrow morning, after I said that, but it is the truth.

The Real Facts

Baker is the airline executive who wrote a letter to Chairman Harris describing as "pure fabrication and vicious lies" my report that National Airlines had used influence through Thurman Whiteside and Commissioner Mack to secure Channel 10 in Miami. Commissioner Mack has now resigned. The committee now has evidence that he received $41,000 from outside sources, including Whiteside, while on the FCC.

The above gibberish of Baker and Williams does not make sense to many people. Presumably, however, the National Airlines executive and the Mississippi Congressman are referring to the fact that my son-in-law, George L. Arnold, now an attorney in Los Angeles, represented Dr. Schwartz for one day, when Schwartz was ousted by the Congressional Committee and subpoenaed to testify before it.

Presumably, Baker and Williams think that because George is the son of Judge Thurman Arnold, who in turn is the law partner of Paul Porter, who in turn is the lawyer for Katzenstein, who in turn applied for Channel 10 in Miami, I have some connection with this case.

While that conclusion is untrue, I should like to remind the Congressman from Mississippi that my name, address, and number are in the phone book and I am available to straighten him out on this point any time he wants the facts.

Lower Phone Rates?

Frank Floete, head of General Services, has asked the Federal Communications Commission to order the Bell Telephone System to reduce government telephone rates by 25 percent.

Bell is vigorously fighting the rate cut because it might set a precedent for reducing home telephone rates, too.

Guest Editorial

COLUMBIA MISSOURIAN: Pointed Warning. Pointed-Toe, spiked-heel shoe designs are going to have "grotesque effects on women's feet," the president of the American College of Foot Surgeons warned the female population recently. He went on to say that if women continue to wear such shoes, foot doctor bills will "come close to equaling the national debt."

We've suspected as much for some time. Anyone who has seen a woman limp into the house, painfully ease off her stylish shoes, and try to massage the slant out of her toes would tend to get the same impression. And that's not taking into account innumerable sprained ankles from catching a half-inch diameter heel in a grate or sidewalk crack.

Shoe salesmen insist that the new styles have as much foot room as the old ones, that the toes don't push down into the point. Of course they don't; they can't all crowd in there, but they certainly try. At this juncture, perhaps we should consider giving the country back to the Indians — and their moccasins.

From 1940 to 1944, for instance, they doubled the freight tonnage they carried. In another war their burdens would be even heavier.

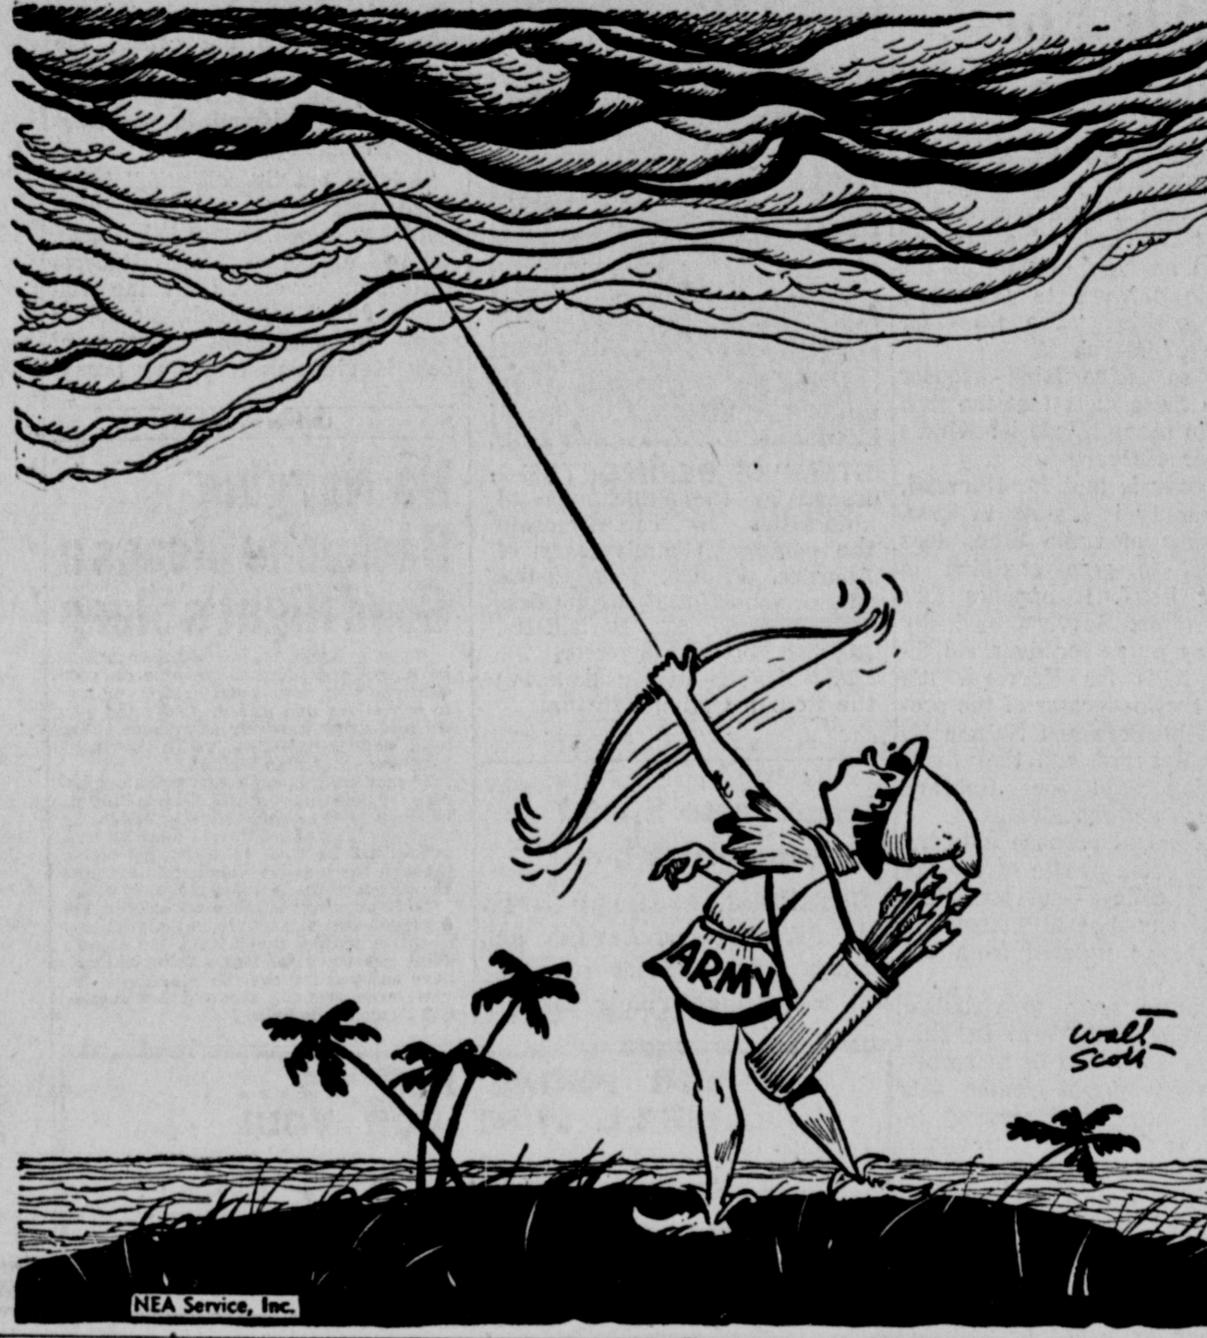

Right now their business has tailed off with the decline in general economic levels. But in better times, even when they are losing relative strength to competitors, their freight loads have mounted to peacetime highs and their equipment has been pressed beyond reasonable limit.

With earnings shaky before the recession struck, the rails cannot attract new investment money and cannot finance improvements out of profits. Yet the more their equipment ages and deteriorates, the worse their competitive position becomes.

Specialists feel the railroads are in the rigid group of vastly outdated regulatory laws, particularly as they relate to rate-making, maintenance of service and tax burdens.

Congress holds the answer but appears disinclined to move. It will act only if an aroused public gives it a push. Evidently that can happen only if the American citizenry can be made to understand how serious it is in peacetime—and how perilous it would be in war—to try to sustain indefinitely a nation whose great rail system is anemic and withering.

Guessing Game Will Affect Economy

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The economy may be saved or wrecked by the guessing game now going on: Is it better to start a huge federal spending program to fight the recession or wait in the hope it will go away?

The antirecession arguments focus on two main methods: a tax cut or big new federal spending. This is a good time to ask:

What's the difference—in principle—between big government spending or a big tax cut to overcome the depression? There's no basic difference. They'd both cost the government money. One might work faster than the other.

Both the Eisenhower administration and the Democratic leadership in Congress are cautious about a tax cut now. Eisenhower full of optimism the economy will take a natural upturn, is full of caution in all directions.

He shows no eagerness for a big, antirecession spending program, although he has urged speeding up of projects already approved by Congress.

The Democrats in Congress talk of a 10-point program to stimulate business and employment. It includes the kind of thing Eisenhower talks about—a speedup in programs already authorized, but also new construction and, if necessary, a modern version of the old WPA of depression days.

Not all members of Congress are as hesitant about a tax cut as Eisenhower and the Democratic leaders. For instance, Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.) wants a tax cut now of around $5,200,000,000.

The Eisenhower administration—despite the dim view the President previously took of it—is showing increasing signs of thinking of a tax cut. Vice President Nixon this week urged it—unless the economy improves soon.

Yesterday Eisenhower put off any immediate decision on the tax cut idea, but he's going to start discussing it with top Republicans.

On March 8 Eisenhower made this statement: ". . . the proper relation of government to the growth and vigor of (the American) economy must necessarily be to stimulate private production and employment, not to substitute public spending for private spending."

And he derided the Democrats' "pump-priming schemes." But most of the steps he's urged—in speedup of authorized programs or the spending of new money—are essentially pump-priming steps.

There is this difference in effect: a tax cut would put money faster into the hands of people to spend on things they want and thus create jobs for people to make the things they want. A big federal spending program wouldn't affect everybody and no doubt would take longer to boost the economy.

Looking Backward...

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

George R. Wilkerson was principal speaker before the Quisenberry Community Club Friday night his topic being "The Future of Agriculture."

1933 Mrs. Vance Julian Clinton, was the guest speaker at the tenth anniversary of organization of the Sedalia Business and Professional Women. Officers of the year were installed.

1933 Alderman R. L. Lawson and Mrs. Lawson were at California, Mo., spending several days with relatives.

1933 Charles A. Schultz, Kansas City florist, died unexpectedly Saturday on the banks of Flat Creek near Manila, where he had been fishing.

1933 Frederick N. Finney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norton J. Finney, Sixth and Quincy, enlisted in the infantry branch of the army. He was to report for duty at Jefferson Barracks, St. Louis.

1918 Juliette Low, the woman who started the first Girl Scout troop 46 years ago today, was over 50 years old when she began her work with youth. She was a widow, childless and had no formal training or preparation for her new venture, yet in a few years she had firmly established a nationwide youth movement for girls which today has grown to more than 3 million members.

Think It Through

—By E. F. Hutton

PREVENTION NOW! — Railroads are the hard core of our transportation network but are on the way to hell and gone. The laws and policies now in effect are strangling the rails.

Car loadings, earnings and jobs are down.

Senator Smathers of Florida, Chairman of the Surface Transportation Sub-committee, suggests three questions for study:

1. How can the rails help themselves under current conditions?

2. What can the Interstate Commerce Commission do under existing laws?

3. What new laws are necessary to insure a sound railroad industry?

The Interstate Commerce Commission was established 71 years ago when there were no trucks, automobiles or airplanes. Enjoying a monopoly, rail regulation was needed. Active competition now protects the public.

Rail management now needs more freedom to adjust to these new conditions, and stay solvent. Otherwise, the taxpayers must subsidize them, or the Government own and operate them, at a loss like the Postal Service.

U.S. NEWS & WORLD REPORT suggests the following to keep the railroads from going "broke":

"Take away some of the Government's power to fix rates and fares."

"End Federal excise taxes on passenger tickets and freight."

"Clear the way for railroad mergers."

"Allow the railroads to own truck, air and steamship lines."

"Stop rail service where it is losing money."

"Reduce State and local taxes on railroads."

"Add a Secretary of Transportation to the President's Cabinet."

Neighbor, these suggestions are admittedly controversial — but what isn't?

Never Too Old

Juliette Low, the woman who started the first Girl Scout troop 46 years ago today, was over 50 years old when she began her work with youth. She was a widow, childless and had no formal training or preparation for her new venture, yet in a few years she had firmly established a nationwide youth movement for girls which today has grown to more than 3 million members.

Clem Honkomp, U.S. internal revenue collector with headquarters in St. Louis, was here for a visit with home folks.

Spirit of Constitution

Instant Decision Possible By Ike-Nixon Agreement

By JOSEPH A. DEAR
Of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — It's a pity the Eisenhower-Nixon presidential inability agreement has raised such a storm of criticism.

Both President and Vice President really should be praised for arriving at a sensible temporary solution of a thorny problem on which Congress has yet to act. The problem, of course, is to prescribe by law the precise procedure to be followed if injury or illness incapacitates the President.

Ike, who has been thrice stricken, did urge Congress to act. When it became apparent that immediate Congressional action was unlikely the President and Vice President "began to talk in personal terms about what we would do."

The provisions of the Constitution must have figured in these discussions. The Constitution states: "In case (of the President's) inability to discharge the powers and duties of said office, the same shall devolve on the Vice President."

Ike accepted the spirit of that paragraph. If he is disabled, Nixon is to take over. Nixon is to be "the ultimate and exclusive for the decision as to taking over this job." And Ike will decide "when I can take it back."

That should prevent a recurrence of the sorry situation that arose in the Cleveland and Wilson Administrations.

Grover Cleveland had cancer. The cancerous tissue was successfully removed in an operation performed aboard a yacht cruising in Long Island Sound. The fact of the operation was one of the best kept secrets of that era. And one reason for the secrecy was Cleveland's distrust of his Vice Presidential colleague, Adlai Stevenson.

A stroke paralyzed Woodrow Wilson in September, 1919. He was isolated and insulated from the outside world. Vice President Marshall was reluctant to assert himself. Wilson was very sensitive and suspicious, and he requested and received the resignation of Secretary of State Lansing who had held unauthorized cabinet meetings during Wilson's illness.

In his last speech of the 1956 campaign, candidate Adlai Stevenson said Ike was virtually a corpse. Stevenson said a vote for Ike was really a vote for Richard Nixon. Did the voters wish to entrust the fate of the nation to him?

Stevenson was roundly condemned for a show of bad taste. But ironically Stevenson had more of an issue than he suspected. Ike is very much alive, and the fate of the nation has been entrusted to Nixon for a few hours already.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Difffenbacher, D.D.

Operating rooms in hospitals should be entirely free from the germs which might infect the patients undergoing surgery. Much has been done to kill microbes and to keep them out of vital areas.

Recently, however, many germs have been finding new ways of entering these antiseptic spots where they can infect and even kill.

New and complicated procedures have had to be developed to sterilize the supposedly clean rooms, beds and people. Sheets, towels, bandages, doors, air ducts and the air itself must be guarded from infinitesimal organisms of destruction.

Our spiritual well being must be protected from new temptations which have come into existence. We must all protect ourselves and our fellow beings from the dangers of sins. We must re-cleanse our souls of hatred, criticism, gossip, and spiritually degrading thoughts.

Some Musicians Get Older, But Elman Keeps Practicing

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Many a youthful violinist grumbles rebelliously to his parents: "I'll bet Mischa Elman doesn't practice as much as I do."

But he's wrong. At 67, Elman, who has no intention of hanging up the fiddle and bow he first clutched in a Russian ghetto at the age of 5, still practices up to three hours daily.

"Some artists, as they get older, lose interest in practicing," he said. "They regard it as drudgery."

"To me it is still a pleasure. Even in practicing you make discoveries, and it is the discoveries that inspire you."

This is the golden jubilee season in America for the small, sturdy wizard of the strings who has a puckish face resembling Santa Claus' elves. But he had been a child wonder in Europe for more than five years when he made his debut here as an artist of 17.

Acclaimed as one of the great masters of the violin in this century, Elman has given more than 3,500 concerts. He has a repertoire of more than 600 numbers and enlarges it each year.

"If you cease doing new things," he remarked, "you cease to grow."

More than two million of his records have been sold. Some of the earlier ones, made with tenor Enrico Caruso, with whom he used to tour in joint concerts, are now highly prized by collectors.

Chance has played more than a casual role in his long career. When he was 12 he failed to turn the gas jet all the way off the night before his Berlin debut—he had never seen gaslight before—and was overcome by the fumes.

When he was 13, in London, a hot glass of tea he was holding burst and badly gashed a finger of his right hand.

"Had it happened to a finger on my other hand," he remarked, "my career would have ended."

All his life he has been unable to indulge in sports for fear of injuring his multi-million-dollar hands. His favorite game: chess.

Asked the most important factors in a concert artist's career, Elman grinned and said:

"Well, entrances and exits are important—just as important as they are to an actor."

"Technical skill is important, of course, but the most important thing is heart. The artist's contact with his audience is through his heart. If he has no heart, he has no contact."

"And work is important. People think a person of genius or great talent doesn't have to work. Actually, he has to work harder because he has higher standards and higher ideals to satisfy."

"My definition of talent is: self-criticism."

Among Elman's pleasant memories is playing in a string quartet with scientist Albert Einstein who, as a musician, was a very fine mathematician.

"But I found his violin playing easier to understand than his theory on relativity," said Elman.

Beside chess, the virtuoso has a rather unusual hobby—listening to his wife.

"I love to relax by discussing topics of the day with her," he said. "She is not a musician, but she is a very intelligent woman. When she says something, it is very much worth listening to."

At 67 Elman still has two great loves—the sound of his Stradivarius, and the voice of his wife who, he says, "has made my life happy from the day we married. We have never had a quarrel."

Fourth Straight Year

West Virginia Runs A foul Of Its Old Jinx in NCAA

By DON WEISS

The Associated Press

The far-flung NCAA basketball tournament takes another step tonight toward lining up its 16-team field for four class-packed regionals this weekend while the biggest of them all, top-ranked West Virginia, lies flat on its back.

Even a team rated best in the nation by the experts voting in the final Associated Press poll couldn't help West Virginia overcome the baffling jinx that says WVU just doesn't win in the NCAA tournament.

Four straight years they've tried in their Southern Conference reign under Coach Freddie Schaus, and four times they've been bounced to the sidelines in their first game. Last night, it was the most baffling of all as the Mountaineers, thrown far off balance in the first half, fell before an inspired Manhattan College 89-84 in the feature of a tournament tripleheader at Madison Square Garden.

"Manhattan hustled like hell, drove like hell and rebounded like hell," said Schaus. "That's the story."

"Weren't the kids great?" asked Manhattan Coach Kenny Norton, who was nearly mauled by his team and delirious spectators after the upset.

It's on to the NCAA Eastern Regional at Charlotte, N.C., Friday night for Manhattan, in which they'll meet Dartmouth's Ivy League champions, who won the Garden opener from Connecticut 75-64. Maryland's Atlantic Coast Conference champions will play streaking Temple, which drew a first round bye, in the other game at Charlotte. The Terps crushed Boston College 86-63 in the Garden windup.

Notre Dame routed Tennessee Tech 94-61, Miami of Ohio surprised Pitt 82-77, and Oklahoma State used free throw accuracy to beat Loyola of New Orleans 59-42 in other NCAA first round games last night. Arkansas joined the tournament field by cuffing Southern Methodist in a playoff for the Southwest Conference championship, 61-55.

Tonight at Berkeley, Calif., Wyoming of the Skyline Conference meets Seattle and Rocky Mountain champ Idaho State plays Border champ Arizona State of Tempe, with the winners advancing to the Far West NCAA regional at San Francisco.

Fans Go Wild At Wrestling Show Tuesday

Wrestling fans were irked no end in the main event of the Pettis Co. Post 16, Am. Legion, wrestling show Tuesday night but soon gave way to their feelings as Sonny Myers and Larry Hamilton "done up" Rip Hawk and Bob Geigel. It was a match which brought the fans out of their seats numerous times as things happened too fast for the referee to keep up with.

A warning from the referee only brought Torth more heat from the Myers - Hamilton combination which reversed the tactics of wrestling and used the same methods applied by Hawk and Geigel in the first fall period.

Geigel won the first fall for his team as he pinned Sonny Myers to the mat after a rough 20 minutes and 40 seconds, using a body press. But the fireworks broke loose in the second period and after both Hawk and Geigel had been raked over the mat by Myers and Hamilton, Myers using the knee breaker on Geigel won the fall in four minutes and 10 seconds.

The final fall was a little mixed up to the referee. Geigel and Hawk tried everything when it came about that Hamilton tied into Geigel and finally got him all twisted up in the ropes. Hawk jumped into the ring and the fight was on. The referee couldn't free Geigel so he was torn between trying to watch Hawk and pulling Geigel out of the rope position.

Myers and Hamilton worked over Hawk, with Hamilton using body slams and a press to pin him to the mat. Time 10 minutes and four seconds. The referee granted the fall to the favorites, with Geigel screaming at the top of his voice to "let me loose now," then protested he was the one who was supposed to be pinned. The match ended to the satisfaction of everyone.

In the opener Hawk and Hamilton went to a one-fall draw. Myers was awarded the match with Geigel when Geigel was disqualified after numerous warnings from the referee to stop choking Myers on the rope. It ended in 12 minutes and four seconds.

Lorraine Johnson was the winner over Mary Jane Mull in the women's three fall event. She won the first fall with body slams in 10 minutes and 10 seconds. Mull won the second when Johnson was disqualified by the referee for using a towel to choke her opponent. A freak fall came in three minutes and 40 seconds in the third fall when Johnson bounded off the ropes to straddle Mull and pin her to the mat.

The next wrestling program will be on Tuesday night, March 25.

Glands Seen Possible Key To Perfection

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Someday you may wake up after a minor operation and find yourself the kind of person you've always wanted to be.

"We are, to a large extent, what our endocrine glands make us," Dr. Francisco Grana said. "Surgical stimulation of the endocrine glands, correction of certain imbalances that exist in all of us, may someday lead the human race to perfection."

Dr. Grana is professor of surgery at San Marcos University in Lima, Peru, the oldest medical school in the Western Hemisphere. He is here to address the 11th biennial Congress of the International College of Surgeons.

"There is hope even today that surgical modification of endocrine glands may lead to the cure of cancer," he told an interviewer.

"We know that there is some connection between the endocrine system and cancer. It does little good in most cases to simply remove the cancerous organ. The real answer, we believe now, lies in the chemistry of the human body. A healthy body does not have cancer. If we restore the endocrine glands to proper functioning, it may be that we will end cancer forever."

The endocrine glands are a system of chemical factories in the head and body which release secretions into the blood. These secretions control growth and well-being by their effect on the various functions of the body.

"A minor, very delicate operation can change the amount of secretion these glands produce," Dr. Grana said. "Underactive glands can be made to produce more. Overactive glands can be brought under control."

Pennsylvania Plates For Residents Only

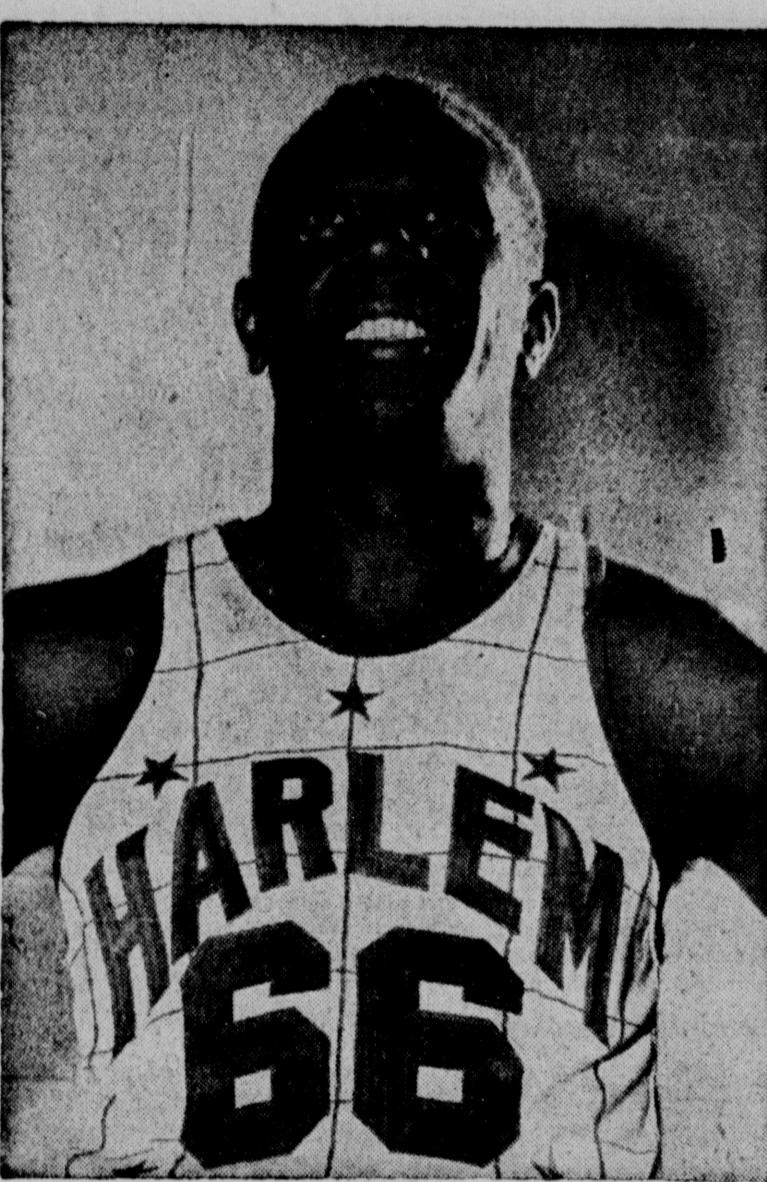

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Royalty or no, auto license plates should go only to residents, says the director of Pennsylvania's Bureau of Highway Safety.

O. D. Shipley, attending a regional leadership conference of the President's Committee for Traffic Safety here, said Pennsylvania should stop sending licenses to former residents now living in foreign countries.

"We are even sending a Pennsylvania license to the princess of Monaco each year," Shipley complained.

The princess is former movie actress Grace Kelly, whose parents still live in Philadelphia.

GOOSE TATUM

At Convention Hall

Goose Tatum and Harlem Stars to Be Here Friday

The great Goose Tatum, basketball's genuine clown prince, is coming to Sedalia Friday night with his Harlem Stars for an exhibition game against the Hounds of Baskerville and his repertoire includes every trick imaginable, plus a few others.

Tatum left the Globetrotters three seasons back after he and Abe Saperstein agreed to disagree. Saperstein is still in business with the Trotters, but he's found the Harlem Stars, with Goose Tatum as the top attraction, tremendous competition. In fact, the Stars have been outdrawing the Trotters in many cities and in this area more Kansas Citians turned out to see Goose perform than the world famous Saperstein crew.

Goose appeared on the Convention Hall court several seasons ago and gained the admiration of a packed house with his zany antics, plus the extraordinary ability to score as many points as the situations demanded.

During his long career, he has played thousands of games and performed for millions of fans the world over.

Other members of the Harlem Stars include Elzie Lewis, Rollie Harris, Lester Burks, Boyd Buie Marland, "Showboat" Buckner, Leon Hillard, and Frank Washington.

Roberts made his first appearance of the year against the Detroit Tigers yesterday at Clearwater, Fla. In the second inning, the Tigers scored three times on four hits, a base on balls and a sacrifice fly.

The Phillies kept even by getting a trio of runs off Paul Foytack, and Roberts finished his three-inning stint with the score knotted at 3-all.

The Phils finally won it 10-9 after scoring five runs in the seventh.

The Pittsburgh Pirates rapped Washington pitching for 15 hits in a 7-3 decision at Fort Myers, Fla. Three Senator errors accounted for four unearned runs. Bennie Daniels, Eddie O'Brien and Don Gross held Washington to seven hits.

The Cincinnati Redlegs jumped on New York starter Tom Sturdivant for three runs in the first inning at Tampa, Fla., but the Yankees rallied for a 5-3 victory. Mark Freeman, up from Denver, and Al Ciccotelli pitched three scoreless innings for New York, each permitting only one safety.

Joe Cunningham slapped a grand-slam home run to put the St. Louis Cardinals ahead 8-7 in the seventh inning against the Kansas City Athletics at St. Petersburg, Fla. But the A's shoved seven runs over the plate in the ninth and took a 14-8 decision.

With one away in the ninth inning, successive singles by Haywood Sullivan, Gene Stephens and Billy Consolo brought in the run which gave the Boston Red Sox a 4-3 victory over the Chicago White Sox at Sarasota, Fla. It was the third straight exhibition score for Boston.

"A minor, very delicate operation can change the amount of secretion these glands produce," Dr. Grana said. "Underactive glands can be made to produce more. Overactive glands can be brought under control."

Card Pitchers Take Lacing by Athletics

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — St. Louis bullpen pitchers took a second lacing in a row yesterday as the Kansas City Athletics beat the Cardinals 14-8.

Phil Clark was roughed up for three runs and four hits in one inning.

The A's also were tough on Bob Kuzava and Morris Martin.

The 35-year-old Martin, recovering from a bout with the flu, was tagged for seven runs in the ninth inning. Don Choate, 19-year-old righthander, finally stopped the A's.

"We are even sending a Pennsylvania license to the princess of Monaco each year," Shipley complained.

The princess is former movie actress Grace Kelly, whose parents still live in Philadelphia.

Rolla Adds New Look To Conference

By ED SOWERS

Rolla Daily News

(Special to The Democrat)

Sports fans and school patrons of the Central Missouri Conference, including Jefferson City, Sedalia, Columbia, Mexico, Fulton and Hannibal, soon will get acquainted with the conference's newest member — Rolla — and its teams and school officials.

Coaches of the Rolla teams have fine records, not only in college where they were stars in their respective sports, but more recently while coaching the Rolla teams.

Mack Gladden, football coach, is a former player of Missouri and who played pro football with the old St. Louis Gunners, New York and other teams. After his pro football days, Mack "retired" to his farm in Texas County, only to be called back to coach Rolla football where his teams have won or finished near the top in the SCA Conference.

Dick Adams, basketball coach, is a native of Maryville and helped the Missouri Tigers win national recognition while playing on the team which defeated New York University in the latter's heyday at Madison Square Garden. His team this year finished second in the SCA, topped only by West Plains, the team now representing the South Central Ozarks in the state basketball tournament at St. Louis.

The Rolla freshmen are groomed in both basketball and football by Erby Young, a native of Popular Bluff, who participated in Oklahoma University sports. Young also directs the intramural sports program at Rolla.

The Rolla freshmen are groomed in both basketball and football by Erby Young, a native of Popular Bluff, who participated in Oklahoma University sports. Young also directs the intramural sports program at Rolla.

The Rolla High School administrators are Buford W. Robinson, superintendent of schools who came to Rolla two years ago from Eldon, and Ray Miller, principal, who has been affiliated with Rolla school affairs for many years.

Manager Bob Scheffing noted that Hobbie has a fast ball that is even faster than the one he let loose against the Giants.

Admittedly the Giants' lineup was heavily stocked with youngsters. But Andre Rogers, the skillful shortstop who previously had accounted for a wind-blown home run, couldn't get the ball out of the infield against Hobbie.

The best Mays could do was a high fly to center field.

"I think we've got something," said Scheffing.

"His fast ball? Well, it goes like this---" And Scheffing indicated with his hands a streak of lightning.

Hobbie, who stands 6 feet 3 and weighs 198 pounds, almost won the Southern Assn. pennant for Memphis last year. He posted a 16-15 record, but appeared in 53 games as a "stopper."

Hobbie, a graduate of American Legion and semipro ball, broke in with Superior, Wis., in 1955, and subsequently played with Charleston, Duluth and Dubuque before Memphis.

In yesterday's game, the Cubs scored four runs in the fifth inning on two singles, Jerry Kindall's double and two errors by Orlando Cepeda. Giants first baseman. They won it 4-2 when the game was called in the sixth on account of rain.

Webb Risks Title Shot Against Mims

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP) — Spider Webb, one of the hottest middleweight contenders since he knocked out Roy Calhoun in January, will risk a possible shot at the title in a 10-round bout with crafty Holly Mims tonight.

Carl Nelson, Webb's trainer, frankly called it a bad match for Webb, who won't add much to prestige by defeating the 29-year-old Mims but has everything to lose.

Mims will be appearing on a national television boxing show for 9th time in this ABC show (9 p.m. CST) at the Fort Wayne Coliseum.

Victory will be worth $2,000 with $1,000 going to the loser.

Casper, Venturi and Walt Burkemo, Franklin Hills, Mich., started yesterday's 36-hole grind tied for the top spot. Casper recorded 70 in his third round while Venturi fell to 73.

Burkemo had a third-round 71 and dropped from contention with a final-round 71 to tie Arnold Palmer, Latrobe, Pa., for third place with each collecting $1,300.

Casper could have won the tournament had he dropped a 20-foot putt on the 18th. He stroked the ball past the cup, but sank a two-footer for par to force the weather-plagued tournament into a playoff.

Doug Ford, Mahopac, N.Y.; Julius Boros, Mid-Pines, N.C.; and Mike Krak, Morgantown, W.Va., deadlocked at 282. Each won $1,000.

Nenturi, Casper Meet in Playoff At New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Slender Ken Venturi, a slender-nerved San Francisco automobile salesman, and husky Billy Casper, absent from tournament golf in recent weeks because of flu, meet today in an 18-hole playoff for the $20,000 New Orleans Open title.

Venturi, hailed as the "new Ben Hogan," came in with a 6-under-par 66 in the final 18 holes yesterday. Casper, of Apple Valley, Calif., finished minutes behind to tie for the lead at 278.

Victory will be worth $2,000 with $1,000 going to the loser.

Elsa Keeps Busy, Forgets About Oscar

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — "Always the bridesmaid, but never the bride," days before the Oscar event.

This is Elsa Lanchester's attitude March 26. "It can't be helped," she says airily.

They will appear together in London in a new play, "The Party," which they'll take to New York if it's a success. This will be their first stage appearance together in over 20 years.

"We're doing the play together because if just one of us did it, we would be apart for a year or so," she explained. "There's no sense in that; you might as well be divorced. Still, I don't think we'd want to appear together all the time. That would get pretty dull."

"Charles and I haven't done more together for the reason that it is hard to find a vehicle with two good character parts. It was different with a pair like Lunt and Fontanne, who were very good looking sex stars and could take a bit of froth and whip it up into a success."

Dr. Conant Returns To High School

NEW YORK (UPI) — Dr. James B. Conant, once president of Harvard, has gone back to high school.

Conant, now in active retirement, for the past six months has been conducting a private survey of American public high schools two-year grant from the Carnegie Corp. He has studied 40 high schools in 13 states so far.

His "tentative" conclusion:

Schools, communities and parents are not doing all they can to encourage and develop the brightest students, who will be the professional leaders of tomorrow.

Dr. Conant, who refers to himself as a "three-X man — ex-chemist, ex-president of Harvard and ex-ambassador to West Germany," says he has found three specific matters for concern in secondary education: "Not enough is being done to single out the academically talented student for special attention. The student often is not being guided into the course that fits his or her ability."

"The usual fear of what is sometimes called 'ability grouping' is that it would create a social strata. This is not necessarily so; not if it's done carefully. It can be set up without rubbing noses in it."

The best way to avoid divisiveness, says Conant, is the home room system, where one class, gathered at random, remains together during its high school years for purposes of general administration and student government — "like the home ward in politics."

A second matter for concern, Conant says, is that "too few girls are taking science and mathematics courses."

"This means they will not be able to continue those subjects on the college level and we will lose many potentially good science teachers at the high school level where we need them the most."

Conant is also worried over the light treatment given foreign lan-

Liz Taylor May Quit The Screen in '58

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Elizabeth Taylor, a top contender for this year's Oscar as best actress, said today that 1958 will probably be her last year as a movie queen.

"My husband (Mike Todd) doesn't want me to be an actress," she told a reporter. "And I don't want it either."

She currently is making "Cat On a Hot Tin Roof" at MGM, the studio where she made her first picture in 1942 — "Lassie, Come Home."

Only 26, she has spent 16 of those years working in front of cameras.

Her contract winds up with "Cat." She's also committed to work for her husband in "Don Quixote," the picture that may be her farewell performance.

But what of an exceptional script — the lure that has brought many an actress out of announced retirement?

"There's no script good enough to get me back once I quit — and that time is no more than two — at the most, three — pictures away."

"I am just too busy otherwise."

She has three children, two by her previous husband, Michael Wilding, and one by Todd. That's what she means by "too busy otherwise."

She admits her favorite role is Mrs. Mike Todd but adds:

"It's really more of an occupational disease than a role."

Agnes Moorehead Gets Divorce From Gist

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UPI) — Actress Agnes Moorehead, 48, has divorced actor Robert Gist, 36, as she said he had "harassed" her to do.

She testified yesterday that 17 months after their marriage he asked her to obtain a quick Mexican divorce so he could remarry.

"He harassed me for the next two years with as many as three telephone calls a day, and in the past two years various women have called to urge me to get a divorce," the red-haired actress told Superior Judge Allen T. Lynch.

Under a property settlement she retains a Beverly Hills home and Gist gets a chicken ranch. He will pay $1 monthly token alimony.

"Our nation needs people who can speak foreign languages," he says. "Lack of such people hurts us in the world. I have been told the Russians have a great advantage over our people overseas because they take pains to learn the native languages."

Conant has drawn up what he considers his ideal academic schedule for the bright high school boy or girl.

Avoid Nipping Pooch

GRANTSVILLE, Utah (UPI)—Tooele County Assessor William R. Judd is a pretty good man with figures, but this time of year he could use an adding machine at home. He raises a few sheep as a hobby.

On a morning check at the corral, he found one ewe with a newborn lamb. A couple of hours later, another ewe produced twins, and a few minutes later a third came forth with triplets.

Judd dutifully made his evening check and found a fourth ewe had given birth to quadruplets.

At its peak in 323 B.C., the realm of Alexander the Great stretched from the Ionian Sea to Northern India.

Seeds Were Loaded

BOSTON (UPI)—Three men who rented a farm in Westport last summer said they weren't sure what they grew there.

Eladio Rivera, 67, and his brother Victor, 63, both of Hartford, Conn., said they thought the crop was corn.

Alphonse Amarello, 42, of Fall River, contended he didn't know the seeds "were loaded."

A federal court judge told them the crop was marijuana.

He sentenced the elder Rivera to three years and the other two men to two years each for growing marijuana.

University Study

Familiarity Breeds Gusto
In Planning Food Likes

ITHACA N. Y. — If Junior grows up loathing liver and little Alice just can't stand Brussels sprouts, chances are that Mother rarely serves them.

In food, apparently, familiarity breeds gusto.

A recent Cornell University study of food dislikes confirmed that the most unpopular ones were rarely on the menu — and many of them were actually foods the study subjects had never even tasted. But the study also indicated that, at least among adolescent girls, good dislikes seldom have as bad an effect on proper nutrition as do misinformed and uninformed "dieting" or sheer indifference to food needs.

Human guinea pigs in the Cornell study were 81 freshman co-eds living in the university's residential halls. The random sample was chosen in this group because previous studies have shown the adolescent girl to be the least well-fed member of the population; because women — particularly adolescent girls — have more food dislikes than men, and because girls living in dormitories are subject to a "controlled" feeding situation with relatively small choice of menu items."

The coeds kept a record for one week of everything they swallowed except water. On the basis of the records, they were later interviewed by specialists in the nutrition field.

None of the girls disliked what nutritionists called such "important" foods as beef, lamb, veal, chicken, potatoes, white bread and rolls, oranges, peaches, cherries, pears, pineapple, grapes, apples, bananas, corn, peas, lettuce, raw carrots and ice cream.

Their reaction to eggs was of great interest: none disliked them but most had strong preferences

Music Festival
Friday Be Held
At Pilot Grove

The annual Cooper County Music festival will be held on Friday, March 14, at the Pilot Grove school, beginning at 10:00 a.m.

Five Cooper county schools will participate in the music festival. About 350 students from the Bunceton, Boonville Catholic, Otterville, Prairie Home, and Pilot Grove schools will enter the various events of the festival.

During the day the various soloists and ensembles will be judged. Entered in the festival are five girls' glee clubs, two boys' glee clubs, three mixed choruses, three girls' sextets, one girls' trio, two boys' quartets, one double boys' quartet, one mixed quartet, two double mixed quartets, three boys' vocal solos, two girls' vocal solos, four piano solos, two bands, one grade school instrumental ensemble, one clarinet quartet, three clarinet solos, one cornet solo, one alto saxophone solo, and one trombone solo.

Judges of the festival are Richard Kennem, vocal music teacher of Marshall High School, and Mr. Gerald McCollum, instrumental music teacher at Boonville High School.

A concert will be presented that night at 7:30 p.m. at the Pilot Grove school by the students participating in the festival.
